

P R O C L A M A T I O N

WHEREAS, Providence has seen fit this year to bless the people of this State with better crop conditions in general and an abundance of feed for our livestock, and

WHEREAS, we have in Washington as President of these United States, a great humanitarian, who holds close to his heart, the interests and welfare of the less fortunate citizens, and who has and is constantly working to improve conditions in order that our needy people may enjoy a more comfortable living, and

WHEREAS, South Dakota has benefited perhaps more than any other State by the measures put into operation for the relief of those who found themselves in need of the necessities of life, without the means of securing those necessities through their own efforts, and

WHEREAS, for the first time in six years, business activity has had a normal increase in volume this autumn, and in our economic field, the prevailing sentiment is one of growing confidence, and

WHEREAS, it has become the custom since the first Thanksgiving Day inaugurated by the Pilgrims, to set aside one day of the year on which to give thanks for blessings received, and because, as outlined above, South Dakota has special reason this year to give thanks,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Tom Berry, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim Thursday, November 28th, as a day on which we will give thanks to a kindly Providence for benefits and blessings bestowed upon us.

DONE AT THE CAPITOL, in the City of Pierre, this 23rd day of November, 1935.
